

Action Flicks

by Ucaomihu

In tribute to the complete overlap between the Best Picture and Best Director nominees this year, in this crossword I am calling, "Action!" As in last year's cryptic, many of the Down answers must be altered before being entered in the grid, in one of five ways: Some have a back that must be fixed, some are sent to Munich, some have a good farewell, some take one of two possible leaders, and some crash. However, there are also five long Down answers (13D through 17D) that will be entered unaltered, each of which calls for some kind of action; the clues for these entries contain no definition part, just the cryptic part.

Flanking the long down entries on either side of the grid is a slightly edited quotation from a film that has garnered an Oscar nomination; this quotation describes these entries. Also, although the Across answers will be entered into the grid unaltered, every Across clue contains an extraneous letter that must be removed before solving; these letters, in clue order, will describe one action you yourself must take to obtain the missing parts of the quotation.
